INTRODUCTION

Full-stack developer with expertise in React/Next.js, TypeScript, Python, and cloud technologies, specializing in building scalable web applications and AI-integrated solutions. Currently serving as CTO at FreePeriod and Backend Developer at ByteDance, delivering high-impact technical solutions while championing clean, maintainable code.

A recognized minimalist influencer who advocates for simplicity in both code architecture and life philosophy. Active open-source contributor with 8+ successful projects, focusing on developer tools and educational resources. Passionate mentor supporting underrepresented groups in STEM, particularly women technologists, through Forward with Her mentorship program.

Combining technical excellence with minimalist design principles to create elegant, efficient solutions. Proven track record of leading technical teams, implementing best practices, and fostering inclusive development environments.
